

Twin Towers Specialized Care for COVID-19

Those facing a hospital discharge following a COVID-19 diagnosis need to take extra precautions to protect themselves and those around them. To support patients through a quarantine, Twin Towers offers services in a specialized care area where a dedicated team of professionals will work together with patients, their family, and physicians through the recovery period. During the stay, therapy services can be provided to encourage a safe return home.

Accepting discharges from hospitals, nursing homes or other senior living communities.
