

Concord Reserve is exactly what I was looking for in a senior living community! I wanted a nice apartment, helpful staff, dining options, happy people, and memory care if we ever needed it, which we did. We looked at maybe six or seven senior living communities, but Concord Reserve is brand new, beautiful, light, and bright. The staff here is outstanding and always willing to help. I really like my apartment, it's very much like the house we had before, only now I have support whenever I need it.

If the community is faith-based like Concord Reserve, they really value their people, we're not just residents to them. That appreciation shows in everything they do and provide for us. The other places I looked at were for-profit, and that energy really showed! The continuum of care was something I didn't really know about before, and it made me feel wonderful. I don't have any family here, so it's just a comfort to know someone will always be here for me. Concord Reserve has helped me maintain my independence because of their fabulous services. I'm supported in whatever way I ask for while respected to do things how and when I want to.

I'm so glad my husband is in a memory care facility that's right here! It would be very hard to travel to another location to see him. Here, I can easily see him a few times to take him for walks and sit down to play a memory game or word search. It's hard to see my husband in his condition, but Concord Reserve makes it so much easier to spend that quality time with him. The caregivers are very good to John in memory care. During the weekdays, they provide different activities like chair yoga, music, or volunteer opportunities. They take John over to the wellness center to do a little job where he files and does paper work, and it makes him very happy, he looks forward to it. They let him do what he's capable of on his own and then support him in areas where he needs it.

I like everything here at Concord Reserve! There's a thing called the 'Slice of Life' where a resident gets to share with the group an activity they did or a part of their history. We have a lot of music programs, cornhole, and trivia. They offer transportation to take us to community events or appointments, which I really appreciate.

Ask as many questions about things you like to do and what's important to you, like hobbies or diet concerns. The chef at Concord Reserve works with your restrictions.
